

MARSHALL RUNNER HAS CLOSE CALL

St. Yves, French Distance Crack, Is Nearly Drowned in Jersey Lake.

PRINCETON, N. J., April 17.—Henri St. Yves, the champion Marathon runner, who is training here for his run with Shrubub under the direction of Al Copeland, had a narrow escape from drowning in Carnegie lake yesterday.

St. Yves and his French trainer, Adria Fosset, were in a canoe, paddling down to the center of the lake, where they attempted to change seats, and promptly went overboard.

Fosset, who is an expert swimmer, went to St. Yves' aid, and got him ashore with some difficulty. Neither was very much the worse for his ducking.

ELECTRIC LIGHT CAUSE OF DISEASE

A new disease, called "electric ophthalmia," is said to threaten all users of the electric light. According to two Dresden scientists, the damage is done to the eye tissues by the ultra violet rays of the electric light, and cataract may ultimately result.

The same investigators have discovered a simple preventative for electric ophthalmia in the shape of yellow or green spectacles, which they prophesy will become universal electricity comes more and more into use as an illuminant.

SAID UNCLE SILAS.

It's when a fellow leads a double life that folks begin to call him two-tongued.—Los Angeles Express.
